

LIOR ROSENBERG

E-mail: liorosen96@gmail.com

Phone: 050- 7107715

Location: Ness-Ziona

GitHub

LinkedIn

Last year of my BSc studying Computer Science and Bioinformatics at Ben Gurion University, with foundational knowledge in Biology & Programming languages.

Professional experience gained in Biology through Lab works and proven track record of success during my internship at BTG.

Hands-on experience gained academic programs projects using Object-Oriented Programming and threading analytical methodologies in Java, C/C++, SQL, Python.

Demonstrates strong teamwork, problem-solving, willingness to learn, time-management skills and Self-motivated, with a strong sense of personal responsibility.

Prepared and looking for starting a career , to make meaningful contributions in role that presents professional challenges, time management, and problem-solving expertise.

Skills

- Object-Oriented Programming & Multithreading Concepts
- Programming Languages: Java, C/C++, SQL, Assembly, Python
- Knowledge with python's libraries such as Panda and Flask
- GMP Regulations knowledge and practices
- Great critical thinking skills, Agile methodologies understanding and Excellent interpersonal abilities
- Attention to details ,quick learner and High work ethics

Languages

- Hebrew – Native
- English - Fluent

Work Experience

Student Intern - BTG , Qiryat Malakhi , Israel , 2023-2024

- Experienced in cell culture and bacterial cultivation
- Developed time-management skills through balancing multiple assignments while consistently meeting deadlines during the internship period.
- Built professional relationships with colleagues at all levels within the organization, strengthening interpersonal communication skills during the internship experience.
- Explored new technologies and approaches to streamline processes & Achieved consistent compliance with GMP guidelines by maintaining a clean and organized laboratory workspace, participating in regular audits and inspections.

ARMY OFFICER - 2015 – 2019

- Efficiently met deadlines and quickly adapted to new technologies and software.
- Self-disciplined military officer with expertise in tactical operations, crisis management, and personnel leadership, excelling in high-pressure environments with strong emotional intelligence and advanced weapons proficiency.

Volunteer – Heroes For Life , Vietnam , 2019

- Positively represented the organization while providing community with much-needed services by providing essential services like teaching, advising, and engaging with children.
- Strengthened community bonds, participating in interfaith dialogues and events.
- Contributed to building of affordable housing, improving community infrastructures.